The Construction Users Roundtable Announces 2017 Construction Industry Project Excellence Award Winners

Cincinnati, OH

The Construction Users Roundtable (CURT) announced its first Annual Construction Industry Project Excellence (CIPE) Awards and called upon the industry to continue its progress in promoting construction productivity across the globe. CURT is committed to give significant national/ international recognition to companies and organizations that excel in productivity on capital projects.

The Construction Users Roundtable is an association of leading corporations in the United States and Canada, dedicated to the promotion of cost effective construction methods. In creating the award, CURT's goal is to promote project delivery excellence while standardizing productivity metrics that indicate exceptional performance. After development of a uniform standard is achieved, tracking and improvement initiatives will be developed to incrementally build enhanced, sustainable processes for project delivery. As a result, CURT founded the Project Excellence Awards to recognize companies and organizations for extraordinary, exemplary and innovative productivity.

The CURT Construction Industry Project Excellence (CIPE) award is intended to recognize project teams who have achieved excellence in project delivery. The award judging committee evaluates a project's ability to add value and eliminate waste and overall excellence in five areas including: Safety, Cost Performance, Schedule Performance, Quality, and Innovation. Through identifying and recognizing excellence in project delivery, CURT hopes to capture and promulgate the common practices from the best of the best and thereby accelerate continuous improvement throughout the industry as a whole.
